

6 A

Female Kirtland
June 24-1932

Red Oak
Osceola Co.

A. H. Walkinshaw

Walkinshaw

(L. Hiett) Kirtland's Warbler, June, 1944, Oscoda Co., Mich.

(L. Hiatt)

June, 1944, Oscoda Co., Mich.

Kirtland's Warbler nest on the ground under grass and blueberries, here slightly opened for visibility. The eggs in a clutch number three to five. (Photo by Lawrence Hiatt)

Kirtland Warbler

Mich.: Oscoda Co., Red Oak, W. of

June 22, 1924

Photos by Walter E. Hastings, who supplied the data (locality & date & species)

today (Mar. 30, 1942) at UMNZ.

W.E.H.

-T.D.H.

K. W. W.

← 19 meas →

← 25 meas →

62

3. Male Kirtland's Warbler on the nest. He did most of the feeding of the cowbird and also would sit on the nest for a short time after feeding, thus aiding with the incubating and brooding.

H. W. Harn. July 16, 1932.

6*

68

8738

13
4/3
ch h f

← 18 picas →

← 25 picas →

The male may be distinguished by its white eye-ring.

(Kiritland's Warbler)

Above: rare instance of male brooding young.

nest. (Photograph by Harry W. Hann)

Below: female on same

table

(B

68.

Janson

July 21, 1944
Kirtland's Warbler
Lovells, Crawford
County, Mich.
L.H. Walkinshaw